History

Since 1994, the Christkindlimarkt organisational committee has been in charge of organising the Christkindlimarkt in the ShopVille-RailCity of Zurich. The large station concourse, designed by architect Jakob Friedrich Wanner and opened in 1871, had become vacant after a conversion. This was the ideal location for a covered Christmas market with its own main railway station. In 2009, Zurich's Christkindlimarkt will be celebrating its sixteenth anniversary. At the 160 or so festively-decorated market stalls, visitors from all over the world will find a wide and colourful choice of wonderful gift ideas and tasty treats. Zurich's Christkindlimarkt is Europe's largest indoor Christmas market.
